

Fishtail Macrame Bracelet by Sara Lovcraft

Macrame jewelry is trendy, and the Beadalon Tying Station is a must-have tool for making knotted jewelry easily.

SUPPLIES:

- B-Lon
- Findings Variety Pack
- Wire Guardians
- Crimp Covers Variety Pack
- Bright 19 Strand Bead Stringing Wire, .018
- Crimp Tubes Assorted Colors #2
- G-S Hypo Cement
- Sapphire Silverite Round Glass Beads, 6mm

TOOLS:

- Tying Station
- Sparkle Chain Nose Pliers
- Sparkle Bent Nose Pliers
- Sparkle Semi Flush Cutter
- Standard Crimper Tool

INSTRUCTIONS

1. Cut a 12 inch piece of bead stringing wire and secure one end to the top of the Tying Station.
2. Before attaching the bottom of strand, thread on 15 6mm beads.
3. Secure the end of the bead stringing wire to the Tying Station.
4. Cut three 8 foot pieces of white B-Lon.
5. With one of the pieces of B-Lon, find the center of the piece and place it under the bead stringing wire on the Tying Station.
6. Create a square knot with the B-Lon.
7. Repeat Steps 5 & 6 with the other two pieces of B-Lon.
8. Slide a 6mm bead up against the last knot you created.
9. Using the tails of the top B-Lon piece, create a square knot against the bead.
10. Repeat this process by creating another square knot with the middle piece of B-Lon, up against the previous knot.
11. Repeat Step 10 with the third piece of B-Lon.
12. Slide a 6mm bead up against the knot you created.
13. Repeat this process, creating three square knots and adding a bead, until you have added all the beads. Your bracelet should end in three square knots.
14. Remove the bead stringing wire from the Tying Station.
15. Turn the bracelet over and tie overhand knots with each end pieces of the B-Lon.
16. Add G-S Hypo Cement to the knots. Once the glue has dried, trim the tails.
17. Thread a crimp tube and wire guardian onto one end of the bead stringing wire.
18. Crimp the bead stringing wire with the crimper tool.
19. Repeat on the opposite end of the bead stringing wire.
20. Attach crimp covers to the crimp beads.
21. Using pliers, attach jump rings and a clasp to the ends of the bracelet.